There are many laboratory license types, each requiring a different amount of CEUs. This section will guide you, by making different package suggestions.

IMPORTANT NOTE: These are just suggestions to guide you in selecting the best package from our product list that most closely matches to the hours that you need to complete. Requirements can change without our notice, so it remains the licensee's responsibility to understand their full license requirements and any additional specialty areas they may require.

- If you have multiple professional licenses, a Subscription (Section 1) will be the best option to accomplish your CE requirements.
- If you only need a few hours try the Individual courses in Section 2.
